Why Trust in Better Impact

The “why” behind our beginnings:

Our “why” is deeply rooted within our CEO, Tony, whose passion project of building a web-based volunteer management software solution, for a residential hospice he founded, birthed the beginnings of what’s now a worldwide “we’re here to help” company.

It’s those origins of giving back that is the common thread of every team member at Better Impact. It’s our culture. It’s our identity. THAT is what you are truly buying into when you choose Better Impact, and it spills over into the software solutions you value from us.

What we’ve evolved into:

Your decision to trust in Better Impact goes beyond receiving great software solutions that progress your programs. We view ourselves as an extension of your team and we hope you will come to view us in the same light.

You’re backed by a product development team that’s relentless in delivering reliable solutions with frequent releases that have your program needs, user experience and accessibility standards in mind and is 100% unwavering in prioritizing the security of your confidential data as #1.

A team of knowledgeable Software Sales Advisors ready to listen to your needs and provide ethical, honest, and educated advice throughout your journey, as you explore how our solutions can help you overcome program challenges.

A team of Member Support Advisors ready to reach their helping hand out to yours 24/5/365, should you choose to lean on them throughout your software transition and beyond.

A SaaS company with our level of employee retention is a rare find which means our people are here as a consistent face and voice for your team.

Our high employee retention is mirrored in our remarkable customer retention.

After all, our very first member, who started with us in 2001, is still a member to this very day.

We hope to welcome you to our reliable family.

Support, Services & Trainings

Making a change in mission critical software, or migrating from spreadsheets to a software platform, can be exciting for some and intimidating for others on your team.

For that reason, it's important to us that you and your team have a variety of support, training, and services available to accommodate each person's unique learning style and build confidence throughout the initial transition and beyond.

Depending on how your team members prefer to receive support, several (always free) options are available to help them move on to the next to-do in their day:

- Online Chat - the most popular option and available 24/5/365
- Searchable Online Help Articles - to address your questions, across all four of our software products.
- Online training videos - to support visual learners.
- Email - when you have questions but not enough time for a chat.
- Phone - for those times when you need to connect with a human voice.

A variety of dedicated training options are available for a fee, if desired. Conducted via web or in-person.*

Better Impact Privacy Principles

We Put a Human Face on Data Processing

People are at the heart of our privacy practices. We don't just process or store personal data; we consider that we are dealing with real people (data subjects in data privacy jargon) and that we owe it to them to protect their data.

We Think Ahead

We think ahead and solve problems in advance of their occurrence. Our systems, development processes, business practices and organisation ethics reflect the premium we place on privacy. The foundation of our work and business is built on the consciousness that we handle sensitive information that must be protected throughout its lifecycle. We envisage how a privacy breach might occur and put necessary controls in place to prevent its occurrence. Our risk management process takes privacy into account in the risk assessment methodology and risk treatment plan.

We Make Privacy Everyone's Business

While we have dedicated personnel on the Better Impact team who are responsible for privacy, the work of maintaining privacy of information is the duty of every member of the team. This responsibility is clearly communicated as a member joins the team and is reinforced with ongoing privacy training provided to all staff on a regular basis to keep abreast of privacy best practices.

We Collect Only What is Needed

We will only collect necessary information minimally required to fulfill the purpose for which it is collected. Limiting collection helps us focus resources on adequate protection.

We Keep it Open, Flexible and Private

We follow a transparent approach to information processing. All stakeholders have unrestricted access to their information. They are in total control of their information from creation to destruction. However, we maintain strict access control that restricts access to information such that stakeholders have access to their information only and nothing more. We always make this clear in our stakeholder communication.

We Commit to Continual Improvement

We make effort to attain perfection, but we recognise that this is a near impossibility. Therefore, we take advantage of every opportunity to consider how we could get better. And we do this on a continual basis.

We are Responsible and Compliant

Our business operates in multiple jurisdictions serving clients around the world. In handling data, we recognise that we are subjected to a variety of legislations and requirements on data privacy and protection. Our dynamic compliance program is built around continual compliance with all applicable legislations.

We are Motivated to Help

We share knowledge freely with our members through privacy advocacy and training programs. We support our members in embracing safe data privacy and protection practices. We continually seek ways we can help them improve their approach to information security by encouraging them to adopt our principles or come up with theirs.

Customer Review for Volunteer Impact

"I can't rate Better Impact highly enough. The system offers complete management of the volunteer life cycle, from advertising, through recruitment and on-boarding, induction, ongoing training, communication, rostering, recognition and exit. I love that the system is completely tailorable to each organisation so it supports our processes and collects the information we need. One of the highlights of Better Impact is that they are always reinvesting in the product and updating features recommended by users of the system. But above all else, I appreciate the 5-star customer service offered by Better Impact. And they invest back into the volunteer engagement sector by facilitating user groups, online and in-person conferences. They truly are an incredible part of the sector who support the elevation of best practice through great products and professional development."

"Managing our donor database has never been easier! Reporting is streamlined and easy. The software is user friendly for admins and donors. Better Impact representatives have annual check-ins to see how you're coming along with the software and you can contact a representative anytime for questions (response time is quick). They even have a product suggestion forum to submit suggestions for the software; they care about you and how the software works for you! I absolutely enjoy this software and cannot wait for future releases on an already great software product."
